Dentist Charged With Killing Father-in-Law. Because Latter Objected to Fast Life.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Jan. 26.—Not since the trial of young Desbrow several years ago for the alleged murder of "Dimple" Lawrence has that section of Long Island centering about Riverhead displayed such a lively interest in a criminal case as in that of Dr. James W. Simpson, who is to appear in court next Monday to stand trial for the alleged murder of his father-in-law, Hartley T. Horner, at Northport, on Dec. 27, 1905.

The death of Mr. Horner and the arrest of Dr. Simpson caused a big sensation at the time in the vicinity of Northport, especially when the wife and mother-in-law of Dr. Simpson accused him of deliberately murdering the old man by shooting him with a double-barreled shotgun. Dr. Simpson, who has been in jail for over a year, still clings to his story that he was in the act of cleaning the gun when it was accidentally discharged.

Trouble had been brewing between the dentist and his father-in-law over money matters. Just a few days before the shooting Horner had threatened to cut Dr. Simpson off in his will.

Simpson saved Horner's daughter from drowning in the Galveston flood. Later the two were wed. The Simpsons came to New York and were soon followed by Mr. and Mrs. Horner. The latter bought the Long Island home and the Simpsons lived with them.

Some time previous to the killing Horner complained of Dr. Simpson's fast life, his drinking, cigarette smoking and fondness for the race tracks. He is said to have attempted to separate his daughter from the dentist.

On the night of the tragedy Dr. Simpson told the family that he would demonstrate to them the manual of arms. He took his shotgun and paraded up and down the room, going through various maneuvers. Suddenly he went to his room and returned, still carrying the gun. It is alleged by the prosecution that he had loaded the weapon.

He then announced that he would clean the gun. He laid it in his lap, the barrel pointing directly at Horner. Suddenly there was an explosion and Horner fell with a fatal wound.

FREE SYNAGOGUE IN CITY OF NEW YORK

Free and Rich, Jew and Non-Jew, Will Have Temple of Worship if Plans Carry.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Jan. 26.—At the Hudson Theatre tomorrow the Rev. Dr. Stephen S. Wise will hold the first of a series of meetings to further his plans for a "free synagogue" in this city. Dr. Wise was the Portland, Ore., rabbi who was approached about a year ago by the trustees of the rich Temple Emanu-El, this city, in regard to his acceptance of that pulpit. He refused to consider the offer, it was said, on the ground that he wanted to be absolutely untrammelled. He left Portland, however, and came to this city to carry out his plans for a free synagogue, which he purposes to make free to all, hospitable to the poor and rich, inclusive alike of the non-Jew and the Jew. Several wealthy Jews of New York have come to Dr. Wise's assistance, and he is confident that with the interest which will be aroused in his series of meetings all remaining obstacles will be removed.

SENATORIAL TOGAS ARE TO BE WORN BY NEW MEN

Thirty Terms Expire In March And Strange Faces Will Be Teen In Upper House At Washington.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—The personnel of the United States senate is to be considerably changed as a result of the elections that have taken place in the legislatures of numerous states during the past two weeks. The choice has now been made in practically all of the states, thus making it possible to draw a line-up of the membership of the upper house as it will stand after the adjournment of the present session.

The thirty senators whose terms will expire March 3 are: The late Russell A. Alger of Michigan, J. Frank Allee of Delaware, Augustus O. Bacon of Georgia, Joseph W. Bailey of Texas, J. W. Benson of Kansas, James H. Barry of Arkansas, Joseph C. S. Blackburn of Kentucky, Henry E. Burnham of New Hampshire, Edward W. Carmack of Tennessee, William A. Clark of Montana, W. Murray Crane of Massachusetts, Shelby M. Cullom of Illinois, Jonathan P. Dolliver of Iowa, John F. Dryden of New Jersey, Fred T. Dubois of Idaho, Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, Murphy J. Foster of Louisiana, William P. Frye of Maine, Robert J. Gamble of South Dakota, John M. Beairn of Oregon, Anselm J. McLaurin of Mississippi, Thomas S. Martin of Virginia, Joseph H. Millard of Nebraska, John T. Morgan of Alabama, Knute Nelson of Minnesota, Thomas M. Patterson of Colorado, Furnifold M. Simmons of North Carolina, Benjamin R. Tillman of South Carolina, Francis E. Warren of Wyoming, and George P. Wetmore of Rhode Island.

General Alger of Michigan is succeeded by William Alden Smith of Grand Rapids, who has represented the Fifth district in the lower house for some years. J. Frank Allee, of Delaware, gives way to Harry Richardson, a wealthy packer of Dover, who is well qualified so far as wealth is concerned for membership in the "millionaires' club." His election well illustrates the uncertainty of Delaware politics. Almost up to the day the legislature assembled it looked as though Allee would realize his ambition for re-election.

Senator Bacon, of Georgia, who is one of the ablest men the South has in public life, comes back without opposition. Bailey, of Texas, after receiving the unanimous endorsement at the state primary, got into trouble as a result of revelations concerning his alleged dealings with some of the Standard Oil crowd, but was elected.

A year ago it seemed as though the toga of Stephen B. Elkins of West Virginia, might be in peril; but Senator Elkins has won his re-election without difficulty.

Joseph H. Millard, of Nebraska, gives way to Morris Brown, late attorney-general of his state, and the republicans of Colorado have elected Simon Guggenheim, one of the famous millionaire family of that name, to succeed Thomas M. Patterson, democrat.

Foster of Louisiana, Gamble of South Dakota, Leach of Oregon, McLaurin of Mississippi, Martin of Virginia, Nelson of Minnesota, Simmons of North Carolina, Tillman of South Carolina, Warren of Wyoming, and the veteran, Morgan of Alabama, are to be with us once again.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS PHYSICIAN'S INJURY

Dr. Charles Townsend Shot by Unknown Assassin in His Bed at His Home.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Jan. 26.—Dr. Charles W. Townsend, one of the best known physicians on Staten Island, was shot and probably mortally wounded while in bed at his home at New Brighton early today. The case is surrounded by mystery, but it is believed the doctor was a victim of a man who sought vengeance for some real or fancied wrong. That it was not the act of a burglar, as was first believed, appears to be borne out by the fact that not a single article was taken from the house although hundreds of dollars worth of jewelry and silverware was within easy reach.

UNITED STATES SENATE AS A MINSTREL TROUPE.

BEN TILLMAN WAS ABUSIVE

He Apologized, However; Was Re-proved and Forgiven Like a Small Boy; Other Washington News.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 26.—Senator Tillman's characterization of the United States senate as a minstrel show, while it has amused the country at large, has created much bad blood in the most dignified legislative body on earth. Evidences of this feeling are kept carefully below the surface, for the senate is nothing if not dignified. However, there is little doubt that Senator Tillman's caustic attack in the course of his Brownsville speech will insure for him a hearty hazing at the hands of his colleagues at the first opportunity. One western senator, noted for his wit, suggested that it would be appropriate to place over the entrances to the floor of the senate, and the swinging doors that lead to the public galleries signs reading:

"TILLMAN'S MINSTRELS
—COUNT 'EM—90."

According to the "Pittsburgh Statesman," the firing line of artists would be about as follows: Tambo, Tillman; Bones, Foraker; Dying Swan, Patterson; Fuller Knight, Carmack; Negro Preacher, and Telephonist, Lodge; Gum Shoe Bill, dancer, Stone; Acrobat and Juggler, Spooner; Soloist, Culberson; Busy Orator, Daniel; Interlocutor, Clay; Antiques, Patriots, Injured Innocents, Paupers, etc. But while the Brownsville incident permitted a number of anti-administration senators to make direct attacks on the President's action, it has been shelved without splitting the majority in the upper chamber, through the adoption of the resolution offered by Senator Foraker. The resolution orders that an investigation shall be made of all the facts with regard to the Brownsville affair, but it specifically states that this investigation is ordered "without questioning the legality or justice of any act of the President in relation thereto."

While the undiplomatic, ungentlemanly, and altogether asinine action of Governor Sweetenham of Jamaica in brusquely declining the assistance offered by Admiral Davis to the stricken residents of Kingston, has stirred up the country, it has been received here with the attention, or lack of attention, that it deserves. In fact, the United States government has given to the world an example of magnanimity in refusing to make an international question out of this direct affront to its navy. So far as the administration is concerned, the incident is closed, although, really, it never was regarded in the light of an incident. If anything, the British representatives at the capital feel the indignity far more than the government of the United States.

The passage by the house of the diplomatic appropriations bill this week gave opportunity for the discussion of general politics, but this discussion did not in any way hamper the measure's scope. It provides $3,000,000 for the diplomatic service, but the item of an additional $500,000 to provide better quarters for the country's representatives abroad was stricken out on a point of order. The struggle of the United States for the commercial supremacy of the world, it is probable that in succeeding sessions of congress this special bill will take on increasing importance. Strong pleas for comprehensive appropriations were made at the recent session of the national convention for the extension of the foreign commerce of the United States, and as this organization is composed of the most prominent merchants and manufacturers of the country, its request is bound to carry weight. There also are distinct indications that other recommendations of this national convention will be followed by the present administration. Chief among these is an earnest request for more sanity in the framing of laws governing business conditions, and especially the passage of uniform laws for the control of corporations and their protection against conflicting and unthinking legislation enacted by the different state legislatures. These recommendations have been backed up by the statement that under existing economic conditions the United States is compelled, because of the high wages paid to labor and the increased cost of raw materials, to put into force the strictest economies in production if Cure every kidney ill from backache to diabetes.

Here's a Janesville case to prove it: John Lawler, of 259 South River street, Janesville, Wis., says: "During the several years I suffered from kidney trouble I used about every remedy that was ever recommended, and it was a positive fact that none of these preparations did me as much good as a few boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills procured at The People's Drug Company. I might say that they have given me a new back. the goods of this country are to compete successfully in the foreign markets. It is recognized here that United States manufacturers and business men cannot successfully enter foreign markets with their goods if variant and unthinking legislation is to disturb conditions at home. It has been only through economies of production that the United States has been able to build up its export trade to approximately $1,800,000,000 a year, and it is realized that if this trade is shaken by unwise laws, the effect will be felt disastrously by every class of the people. For this reason the administration's guns are trained on political charlatanism and it would seem that the day of demagoguery is done.

Arthur P. Statler, who succeeds Charles H. Keep as assistant secretary of the treasury, was sworn in this week. Mr. Statler's appointment is further proof that President Roosevelt is living up to the fact that he believes in "the young man's administration." For the new assistant secretary is only a little more than thirty years of age. Mr. Statler is a native of Carlisle, Pa., coming to the United States in the early '80s. He lived for some time on a ranch near Sioux City, Ia., attended the public schools and the high school of the city, and later attended Cornell college at Mt. Vernon, Pa. For six years he was in newspaper work, being connected with the Sioux City Journal, and later as city editor of a daily paper in Walla Walla, Wash. He has been private secretary to Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, and has made an enviable record in that position.

Chairman Burton of the house committee on rivers and harbors, this week lifted the floodgate, and tumbling out from the floor came the greatest appropriation bill ever presented in the American congress for the development of the nation's waterways. Probably no bill of the present session has received such exhaustive and searching attention as this measure. The country at large recognizes that if present prosperity is to continue the waterways must be developed to provide a new means of transportation, for it has been shown plainly and painfully that the commerce of the United States has far outstripped the railroads' capacity to handle it. There is certain to be much acrimonious debate over the passage of the bill, for the reason that a vast number of meritorious enterprises believe they should be recognized more generously. This will lead to a rapid cross-fire of debate, but it is morally certain that it will not in any sense imperil the passage of the measure because of the general recognition that the subject requires a broad and patriotic consideration if the nation's rivers and harbors as a whole are to be steadily bettered.

Congressman Joseph P. Randall of Louisiana, as president of the national rivers and harbors congress, has labored for years to obtain for waterway improvement the recognition its importance demands. As a result, his colleagues are extending their hearty congratulations on the extent of the present bill. Mr. Randall declares, however, that the national rivers and harbors congress will not relax its efforts nor modify its demand that an annual appropriation of not less than $50,000,000 be made to carry on this great work that is of such vital importance to the business interests of the entire country.

ANNUAL EVENING WITH THE SCOTS

OVER 300 ASSEMBLED AT CENTRAL HALL.

FOR BURNS' ANNIVERSARY

Celebration Which Lasted Until Three
This Morning and Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by All.

Yearly, the residents of Rock county who treasure the memories and customs and legends of the land of heather, of its great warriors, its great novelist, and its great poet—and their member includes many of alien races as well as the real descendants of the clans—gather in Janesville to perpetuate those traditions in which the strange appeal of the bagpipes, the kilts, and the sonorous dialect play such a prominent part. The birthday of Robert Burns is the date fixed for this festival and, as it to emphasize and set it apart from all other days, the elements almost invariably conspire for zero weather and a harsh wind out of the north. Both came as usual, yesterday, but this did not prevent some three hundred people, including visitors from several sections of the country, from hearing the splendid program and participating in the dance at Central hall which ended at three o'clock this morning.

From the balcony where the Knell & Hatch musicians were stationed the banner of the society and the stars and stripes were conspicuously displayed. The reception committee, consisting of Dr. James Mills, Alex. Galbraith, James Shearer, D. M. Barless, and Alexander E. Matheson extended a warm welcome to all comers, and the floor committee of which Frank Gentle, P. K. Caldwell, Walter Little, E. C. Smith, and Jesse Barle were members, overlooked nothing in providing for the comfort and enjoyment of the throng. Shortly after eight o'clock the orchestra opened the festivities with the overture, "Bonnie Scotland," following which President Earle announced the address and stereoscopic views of Scotland, by Rev. Robert C. Denison who occupied the pulpit in the Congregational church at Dundee for several weeks last summer.

The speaker opened his entertaining discourse with a tribute to the poet Burns, whose broad democracy, had left its impress on the nation and whose hatred of hypocrisy had been of priceless service to the church. Napoleon and many other of the heroic figures of history inspired and still inspire awe and wonderment of their military genius and remarkable statesmanship. But such as these come and go, the hearts of men.

Burns is the hero of love and humanity. Unlettered he sang of the beauties of hill and stream, the hopes and heart-longings, the good deeds and the sins, the joys and disappointments of common men. His true spirit can scarcely be interpreted in immobile marble or bronze and all statues of him and majestic monuments to his memory must needs be incongruous and disappointing. With Prof. Arbuthnot operating the stereopticon, the speaker then took the listeners and observers on a little journey through the lowlands and highlands, including in his itinerary the Tam O'Shanter Inn, the "Two Brigs," the river Doon, and the home at Ayr, the poet's birthplace, and the house at Dumfries where he died; scenes at Loch Lomond and the land of the noblest Scott; Stirling castle, Edinburgh, and numerous other places of abiding interest.

Following Mr. Denison, Miss Bessie Burch gave two beautiful renditions of the Scottish songs—"Afton Water" and "My Laddie"—charming every hearer with the pure quality of her soprano and her fine understanding and expression of mood and motive. Miss Emma Shoemaker demonstrated her exceptional ability as a reader and character delineator in a scene from "Lovey Mary" requiring the impersonation of half a score of different individuals. She also gave a spirited recitation of "The Relief of Lucknow." Novel and very pleasing were the two whistling numbers, "The Frolic of the Butterflies" and "The Shepherd Boy," given to piano accompaniment by Miss Charlotte G. Chamberlain. "Auld Lang Syne," sung by the audience to the accompaniment of the orchestra, was the closing number.

three others needed for this "figure" could not be found and the second half of the evening's entertainment had to begin with a commonplace wait. Until after midnight every other number was a Portland Fancy or some other variety of square dance, so it was a "square deal" for old and young alike. Refreshments were served by Andrew Gibson in the club rooms on the first floor. About forty couples were still on the floor when the "Home, Sweet Home" waltz at three a. m. brought to an end the memorable event.

Terre Haute, Ind., Jan. 26.—That a meteor, set off the car of powder and caused the disaster to Big Four accommodation train No. 3 at Sandford, Ind., on last Saturday night, is the assertion of R. E. The meteor, said Mr. Brown, was moving in the direction of Sandford and left a trail of sparks. Almost immediately after its appearance the explosion of the car of powder occurred. THE VALUE OF CHARCOAL.

Few People Know How Useful It Is in Preserving Health and Beauty.

Costs Nothing To Try.
Nearly everybody knows that charcoal is the safest and most efficient disinfectant and purifier in nature, but few realize its value when taken into the human system for the same cleansing purpose.

Charcoal is a remedy that the more you take of it the better; it is not a drug at all, but simply absorbs the gases and impurities always present in the stomach and intestines and carries them out of the system.

Charcoal sweetens the breath after smoking, drinking or after eating onions and other odorous vegetables. Charcoal effectively clears and improves the complexion, it whitens the teeth and further acts as a natural and eminently safe cathartic.

It absorbs the injurious gases which collect in the stomach and bowels; it disinfects the mouth and throat from the poison of catarrh.

All druggists sell charcoal in one form or another, but probably the best charcoal and the most for the money is in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges. They are composed of the finest powdered Willow charcoal, and other harmless antiseptics in tablet form or rather in the form of large, pleasant tasting lozenges, the charcoal being mixed with honey.

The daily use of these lozenges will soon tell in a much improved condition of the general health, better complexion, sweeter breath, and purer blood, and the beauty of it is, that no possible harm can result from their continued use, but, on the contrary, great benefit.

A Buffalo physician, in speaking of the benefits of charcoal, says: "I advise Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges to all patients suffering from gas in stomach and bowels, and to clear the complexion and purify the breath, mouth and throat; I also believe the liver is greatly benefited by the daily use of them; they cost but twenty-five cents a box at drug stores, and although in some sense a patent preparation, yet I believe I get more and better charcoal in Stuart's Charcoal Lozenges than in any of the ordinary charcoal tablets."

To Move Army Quarters: The tearing down of the old frame structure at 213 1/2 West Milwaukee street, the lot on which Henry C. Klein will erect a new store building this year, has compelled the local post of the Salvation Army to search for new quarters. Litzkow on Linn street Thursday night and four chickens and a rooster from Frank Zahn on Locust street Wednesday night, and the ten from J. T. Wright's coops.

BANK STOCK

Unlike other corporation stock carries with it a double liability. That is for every dollar's worth of stock a man holds in a banking corporation he may be called upon to pay another dollar. Surplus and undivided profits carry with them no such liability. The National Banking Act recognizes this distinction and requires all national banks in cities of Janesville's size to have a capital of at least $100,000. This bank's capital is $100,000 and the stockholders are liable for $100,000 more, the surplus and profits are $70,000, a total of $270,000, which protects your money if deposited in this bank. We pay three per cent interest on certificates of deposit.

SPORTS AND SPORTING MATTERS

KELLY ON WARPATH

The Great Italian Middleweight Matched With Tommy Ryan.

BUT PREFERENCES JACK O'BRIEN.

Nevada Club Offered $15,000 Purse For Ryan-Kelly Bout—Ryan the Favorite, but Latter's Strength and Courage Are Factors.

Wide interest has been aroused by the news that Tommy Ryan and Hugo Kelly, through their managers, have accepted an offer to fight for the middleweight championship at Rhyolite, Nev., in April.

Bids for their bout were opened in Chicago recently, four other clubs putting in offers. Denver, Ogden and Indianapolis were thrown out, and the decision then narrowed down to Hot Springs and the sagebrush.

The Rhyolite proposition looked the best of all, as Manager F. W. Skinner of the Nevada club guaranteed the fighters a purse of $15,000, with a privilege of 65 per cent of the gross receipts. Managers Curley and Perotti evidently got nervous over the big offer, as they accepted by wire without insisting on railroad tickets for each fighter and manager and $1,000 apiece as training expenses. When they came to they asked for the additional consideration, which they suppose will be granted. But who ever heard of a fighter or a manager getting or giving anything from a shoe button to a peanut that was not "so, nominated in the bond?"

Tommy Ryan favored the Hot Springs offer for a limited round contest, but Kelly had his eye on the long end of the $15,000 and insisted on the finish fight, which, he thinks, will return him a sure winner. He conceded Ryan a chance for a draw or a decision on points in a twenty round affair.

The weight will be 155 pounds ring-side and will be the first middleweight championship contest since Fitzsimmons defeated Dempsey for the title.

Ryan is, of course, the favorite because of his extended experience, but Kelly is a very formidable lad, one with plenty of courage and strength to match Ryan's superior skill and generalship.

Kelly is set on meeting "Philadelphia Jack" O'Brien, and many people there are who will wager that the Quaker cannot knock out the Kelly boy or win from him on points. Kelly in fact has three or four lions in the fire, and it has been hinted that he would call off the match with Ryan if a match with O'Brien became possible.

If Kelly, however, defeats Ryan, O'Brien will have to meet him. The wily Quaker will not then be in a position to say, "Go get a reputation."

NEW GOLF OFFICIALS.

S. M. Felton, Railroad Man, Made President of Chicago Golf Club.

Members of the Chicago Golf club recently elected their officers for 1907. Samuel M. Felton, president of the Chicago and Alton railroad, was elected president by the golfers, succeeding Robert T. Lincoln, who has held the office two years. Alan L. Reid was elected vice president. The full ticket elected: President, Samuel M. Felton; vice president, Alan L. Reid; secretary, Morton Otis; treasurer, Harold A. Howard; directors, above officers and Frank B. Noyes, W. P. Martin, William Prescott Hunt, Jr., H. H. Kohlman and J. Kruttschnitt.

The club informally discussed plans for next season, and it is probable the directors shortly will be active in several directions preparatory to a busy year on the links.

THE ROUNDUP COLUMN.

Willie West Empties His Six Shooter at Modern Billiardists.

Jake Schaefer, the "wizard," is right in his criticism of some of the down to date cue sharps. They have paralysis of the nerve. Most of the latter day experts get cold feet at the mere thought of playing over 500 points for a championship title. In the old days most of the matches were for 1,000 to 3,000 points. Those contests were real tests of skill. A 500 point sprint is only a preliminary workout.

Willie Hoppe is largely responsible for the prevalence of championship contests of the modern brand. The wonderful boy champion wants to get the money quickly.

A return to the old method would greatly benefit the game, for it would stimulate public interest and bring about better tests of ability.

A man getting a lead of fifty points in a 500 point game is a sure winner, but such is not the case in a 1,000 or 3,000 point match.

If he wallops the Denver kid decisively in their next battle he will be in line to scrap for one of those opulent purses hung up in the northwest for champions and near-champions.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD

Old Horse, W. B. Gates, Has Won One Hundred and Two Races.

SIRE BY SUBURBAN WINNER.

Twelve-year-old Turf Warrior Can Show Equine Youngsters the Way to the Wire—Captured Twenty-four Events in One Year.

W. B. Gates, the horse that came home recently at Oakland, Cal., at the juicy odds of 20 to 1, has established a decidedly unique record for races won that is hard to equal.

Gates made 102 winning races when he beat Cladestine by a head. It is claimed for other horses that they have made an even century mark in the way of earning brackets, but Gates has a clear record—clear except for one thing, that some of his races were won on outlaw tracks, and the results are not recognized in the turf reports.

He is about twelve years old now and can race in any kind of going and with any sort of odds tacked up against his name. Each time he races it looks as if it would be the last time, but W. B. keeps coming and ever and again will be ahead when the judges take the final peep.

His sire is Prince Royal, who won a Suburban handicap, and his dam Penelope. He was foaled at the Kings-ton stud and was sold by Garret C. Bennett of Memphis for $1,000.

Ferguson named the colt after a wealthy Memphis business man, and during the time that he raced under the Bennett colors W. B. Gates won more than forty races. R. R. Rice, Jr., son of Captain Rice of Arkansas, bought Gates, when the horse was about five years old for $1,500. It was a good buy. The first year that Rice raced Gates he won twenty-four races, and the next year at Union park, the St. Louis outlaw track, W. B. Gates won twelve handicaps. At Delmar park, in St. Louis, Gates won three races in as many days hand running and on the fourth day was beaten by a nose.

Gates was nerved twice in the front feet and had his tendons bowed five times. He has the additional honor of having raced on every track in this country and in Canada, save Ascot in Los Angeles, and is so well-known that every time he enters a race he is not lacking for supporters.

The bettors remember the many times they have won on W. B., and whether he looks good or not they are sure to have a bet on him for the sake of old acquaintance.

MUST SHAVE BEFORE A FIGHT

Tommy Ryan Suggests New Rule For Boxers Going Into Ring.

Tommy Ryan, who in a moment of generosity turned the middleweight championship over to Hugo Kelly and then acted the part of "Indian giver" by agreeing to fight Kelly for the middleweight championship, recently came forward with a new rule requiring all boxers to be closely shaved two hours before the fight.

"Ever since a fight I had with Mysterious Billy Smith some years ago in St. Paul," said Ryan, "I have been extremely careful to see that my opponent was closely shaved and in some cases made this stipulation when the articles of agreement were signed. In my fight with the mysterious one I noticed as he entered the ring he needed a shave badly, but in the excitement I never gave it a second thought."

"After we had been going five or six rounds my right eye was almost closed, and pained me dreadfully. In the seventh round I noticed during every clinch Billy would deliberately take his chin, which had about a four days' growth of beard on it and strongly resembled a wheel in a music box, and put it right in my eye, giving it three or four vicious turns, after the manner of Kid McCoy's famous corkscrew punch. The referee separated us, but not before Billy got away with his trick. After this I cautioned him, and he cut it out for the rest of the fight."

"Billy almost put one of my eyes out of commission, but I had him hanging on to the ropes before long and won the decision."

ATTACKS ROAD'S CHARTER

MINNESOTA ATTORNEY GENERAL BEGINS QUO WARRANTO SUIT.

Defendant is St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Company, Parent of the Great Northern.

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 26.—Attorney Gen. Young began quo warranto proceedings in the supreme court Friday to compel the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba Railroad company to show cause why its charter should not be forfeited.

This company, formerly known in this state as the Minnesota & Pacific company, is really the parent of the Great Northern Railway company, and the Great Northern is joined in this issue, as it is the owner of the Manitoba company's stock.

Attorney General Young's complaint covers 13 typewritten pages and goes into the transactions of the Great Northern Railroad company with its constituent companies forming the "merger" known as the Great Northern Railway company.

Attorney Gen. Young says: "We have joined the Great Northern Railway company as a party in this action because it is the owner of all the stock of the Manitoba company, and for the further reason that in the alleged purchase of the property the assets of the Manitoba company by the Great Northern company, a very large amount of watered stock was issued by the latter company which we claim is void under the law of this state, and upon which the public is now, and ever since its issue has been, paying large dividends. We ask that the stock be declared void and the payment of further dividends thereon be prohibited."

Chief Justice Start ordered the writ to be issued, and directed that a return be made on April 2 next.

BURLINGTON STEALS A MARCH.

Gets Ahead of Northwestern in Big Horn Canon.

Thermopolis, Wyo., Jan. 26.—A party of Burlington railroad contractors and constructors, have begun building a line of railroad through the famous Big Horn canon, in order to forestall the Northwestern line, which was to be built through the same canon next spring. For 12 miles there is room for only one road through the cleft, and it has been a race between the two roads as to which could first reach the canon and secure the right of way.

The Big Horn canon is the key to traffic in all northern and western Wyoming, and the only route through the Owl Creek mountains. The Northwestern must seek an outlet to the west far to the south of its planned line.

Levee Breaks Again Just Below the Missouri Village.

Cairo, Ill., Jan. 26.—Bird's Point, Mo., is now under several feet of water and another break occurred in the levee below the village Friday afternoon, which will place at the mercy of the flood a section that has not been under water for years. The Iron Mountain and Cotton Belt railroads have discontinued all train service at that place and taken all of the rolling stock out of the yards.

A severe wind and rainstorm raged Friday and this, with a further rise of the river in sight, cast a gloom over the flooded territory.

SENATE IS AFTER NAVY OFFICERS

HALE PRESENTS RESOLUTION TO CHECK THEIR LOBBYING.

NEW CHILD LABOR BILL

Simmons Measure Recognizes Laws of the Several States—House Discusses Free Seeds.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Resolutions to check naval officers from "lighting a fire under senators and members to compel the enactment of the naval personnel bill at this session," were presented in the senate Friday by Mr. Hale, and after causing a snappy debate of short duration, went over for future consideration.

Mr. Hale's resolutions cite the president's order forbidding government employees to "lobby" and direct an inquiry by the secretary of the navy to ascertain whether the order is being violated.

The urgent deficiency appropriation bill, carrying $275,000, as it came from the house and authorizing by a senate amendment a loan of $1,000,000 to the Jamestown exposition company, was passed. The latter part of the day was devoted to the disposition of pension bills.

New Child Labor Bill.

Senator Simmons introduced a child labor bill which is designed to make it unlawful for an interstate carrier to transport from the state of production into another state products of a mine or factory in which children are employed or permitted to work in violation of the child labor laws of the state and seeks to make them effective. It is based upon the idea that nearly all the states have child labor laws and that they are largely ineffective and will remain so as long as they can only be enforced by local prosecution for their violation.

Plea For Free Seeds.

In connection with the discussion of agricultural appropriation bill in the house there was a general debate on the committee provision appropriating $238,000 for the purchase and testing of new rare and uncommon seeds, bulbs, trees, shrubs and vines, and omitting the usual appropriation for the purchase of ordinary flower and garden seed for distribution.

Mr. Candler of Mississippi led the fight for free seeds and in a long speech in favor of the provision in last year's appropriation bill he charged that the item in the present bill was the work of a lobby composed of seed men of the country, and of effective newspaper work. He said he could not go back and look his "dear old farmer friends" in the face, after the increase of the salaries of congressmen, if free seeds were not to be had. He offered a substitute providing for free seeds as heretofore. He criticized the department of agriculture for its interfering in the matter and said the government was becoming a bureaucracy.

ALGER'S BODY TO LIE IN STATE.

Arrangements for Funeral Services in Washington and Detroit.

Washington, Jan. 26.—Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry, who is arranging the details of the funeral of the late Senator Alger, so far as that can be done from Washington, announced Friday that at the close of the funeral services, to be held here at two o'clock Saturday afternoon, the body will be removed to the Pennsylvania railroad station and placed on the four o'clock western train due to arrive in Detroit at 10:45 a. m. Sunday. After consultation with Mrs. Alger, and telegraphic exchanges with Col. Frank Hecker, who is in charge of the funeral arrangements at Detroit, it was decided that when the body of the late senator arrives in that city it will be removed to the city hall and lie in state during the remainder of Sunday. Monday morning the casket will be taken to the Alger residence, where funeral services will be held at two o'clock.

The United States army will be represented by an escort of three or four companies of infantry now stationed at Fort Wayne and by a firing squad to give a military character to the services at the graveside. Col. Hecker has also been authorized to provide for a participation in the funeral procession of the Michigan National Guard and of the Detroit Loyal Legion.

FAMOUS PICTURES INDECENT.

Omaha Court So Brands Works of the Old Masters.

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 26.—The Omaha courts have decided that works of art by famous painters, including Van Dyke, Rubens and Van Der Werff, are indecent and that reproductions of them cannot be sold in Omaha stores. For persisting in their sale, John Greenberg, was fined Friday and warned that on the next occurrence he would be sent to jail.

Greenberg had on sale copies of Rubens' "Judgment of Paris," the original of which is in the Dresden art gallery; Van Dyke's "Diana and the Golden Rain of Jupiter," Van der Werff's "Magdalena," and others of that class. A police sergeant confiscated the reproductions on the ground that they were indecent and Greenberg was fined for having them on sale.

Prevent Headache

We want you to know that Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills prevent as well as relieve headache, and that they leave no bad after-effects. We assure you that if taken when you first discover indications of an attack, they will drive it away, and thus not only save you the misery and distress, but the weakening influence of pain upon your system. Used in this way the attacks become less frequent, and eventually entirely disappear. They relieve pain by strengthening the nerves and overcoming the turbulent, excited condition, which is the cause of pain.

"We used Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills in our family for five years, and I would not like to do without them. Before I found this remedy I would have spells of sick headache so severe that I would be prostrated for as many as 48 hours at a time. The Anti-Pain Pills stop the pain in a few minutes. I have a great deal of neuralgia around the heart, and the Anti-Pain Pills also relieve that, now take them when I think I will have an attack, and they stop it right then. I also notice that I do not have these spells so frequently as formerly."

KNOWWHATYOUBUY

You Can See Quality and Quantity in the Local Stores.

PAYS TO TRADE AT HOME

The Purchaser Must Take Mail-Order House Goods on Faith—Keep the Money of the Community at Home.

When the consumer buys merchandise he is interested in three things—quality, quantity and price. When he goes into the store of his local merchant he sees the goods that he is to pay for displayed before him; he can determine whether the quality is first-class, and whether the quantity is all that is claimed. These two points settled, he should have a fair idea as to whether the price asked is a fair one or not.

But how is it when he attempts to buy of the big mail order houses of the cities? The only guide he has to the quality and quantity they are offering is what the catalogue says, and the catalogue is prepared with the one object in view of selling the goods.

When the consumer buys of his local merchant and finds the goods he has purchased were not as represented he can promptly take them back and receive his money. When he buys of the mail order house in the large cities he has practically no recourse but to take what he gets and look pleasant at the results.

It is cheap goods and short weight that is making mail order house profits. They can buy but little, if almost the exceptional order that is conducted on the theory that it is possible to take an inferior job and foist it on a credulous people by means of a reduced price and the honest reputation established by the meritorious original which it shamelessly caricatures. These methods have been crowned with success solely by reason of the fact that mail order houses put more skill, energy and money into advertising than do the manufacturers to whom the American people are directly indebted for the best vehicles on the face of the earth.

"The mail order business is the quack doctor of commerce. It promises much and guarantees nothing. The directions are always on the inside, and you have to buy a non-returnable package before you can find out what they are."

A. G. Enderton, of Walter, Okla., writing to the Shawnee, Okla., Union Signal, says:

"... The mail order houses are the worst offenders of the pure food law that we have to deal with. They are the people who use short weight tin cans and every year the American public is cheated out of thousands of dollars by this alone."

"Now suppose you find out what crude petroleum, like what is pumped out of oil wells cost. Very cheap, is it not? That is the oil that is used and what about the paint stuff? How about Spanish whitening, with just enough white lead to stick it together?"

The question of prompt delivery is another question which mail order house patrons should consider. It is filled promptly. The reason for this

INDIAN LORE OF GREAT INTEREST

ROCK COUNTY FULL OF INDIAN TRACES.

MANY REMAINS ARE FOUND

Were the Tuscarora Indians. Originally Welshmen Who Came to America Centuries Ago?

In this day and age of modern research, historians and persons searching after the myths and religions, come upon many interesting matters relative to the original settlers of this continent—the American Indian. Scientists have long sought the origin of the different Indian tribes and their language. It has even been claimed that the Sioux today talk the same jargon or dialect as the Japanese from the Island of Yeddo. Other languages are likewise traced and the study is most interesting. In Janesville there are traces of Indian occupancy long before the first settlement of white men. The Rock river was an easy manner of transportation and trails led to and from the principal fords and camping grounds in the state. A trail led from Beloit and Rockton to Janesville on both sides of the river. Of another across the prairie towards Delavan Lake in Walworth county distinct traces are found. Mounds are also found in different portions of the county showing that permanent camps were established here and a certain stage of civilization reached. Porter township has one group of eight mounds just on the edge of the prairie two miles above Fulton. There is also another mound a mile nearer Fulton. In Fulton township at Indian Ford distinct traces are found with several different sets of mounds. Even in Fulton itself an oval-shaped inclosure is very distinctly shown. In Rock township south of Afton another group of mounds are to be found. Beloit township is replete in mounds. The last report of the Wisconsin Archaeologist gives a detailed account of them and names many of them. Peck's Mounds, on the bluffs and bottoms three miles north of Beloit; Henderson's Effigy, a lizard, two miles north of Beloit; the Merick group, one mile south of the city; the Duquoy group of conical, effigy and other mounds inside the city limits of Beloit, near the Fairbanks-Morse Plant; the Eaton group, a half mile north of Beloit on the east side of the river, where human bones have been exhumed from the mound showing the effigy of a turkey. At the time of the coming of the first white settlers the Winnebagoes had a camp, a permanent village, at the mouth of Turtle Creek and garden beds existed in different parts of the present city. In Milton township there are several groups of mounds at the foot of Lake Koshkonong, also distinct traces of a large and permanent village. Fireplaces and heaps of shells show this was a large community. In Turtle township many effigies are found on the banks of the bluffs. The council house of the Winnebagoes stood near Turtle Creek, where the road to Shopiere crosses it. The study of the Indians and their customs and language is most interesting. Among the eastern tribes the Tuscaroras, a lighter colored Indian tribe than any of the others of the Nation to which they were allied, much mystery has always surrounded. The following latest theory as to their origin was handed in to the Gazette and is published below:

The famous band of Tuscarora Indians once ruled what is now Virginia and the Carolinas, more than three hundred years ago, but who were driven into the north by the more aggressive tribes that roamed that section of the country. The history of the early inhabitants of this country, up to the time of the settlement at Jamestown, Virginia, three hundred years ago, which anniversary the Jamestown expedition is to commemorate, is largely made up of legend and myth, for the Indian had no written language except a long and difficult system of woven beads that were kept by the "Medicine Men" or historians of the tribe, of which but little remains. The Tuscarora Indians, as far as can be learned, however, are the descendants of a white colony that migrated from Wales in 1170, and were wrecked on the shores of Virginia or the Carolinas.

This theory is substantiated by the fact that the Tuscaroras are much lighter in complexion than any of the other tribes of the American Indian, also by the fact that when visited by a Welsh settler from the north in 1600, he was able to converse with this tribe in his native tongue. Again in late years, when "Deertoot," the noted Indian runner, made his successful tour of Europe, defeating all the best athletes that competed against him, was this theory proven, for Deertoot, who was a direct descendant of the Tuscaroras, on meeting a party of Welshmen at an English tavern found that he could make himself understood by conversing in his native tongue.

When driven from Virginia and the south, the Tuscaroras turned their steps northward and joined the Iroquois, or Five Nations, who were then the supreme rulers of that section of the New World. During the periods of both the Revolution and the War of 1812, this tribe was of great service to the American colonists against the British. Many of the tribe have become Christians and have been educated in our schools, but there are yet those among them that hold to their pagan faith, weird customs, and religious festivals and dances.

Art Treasures in South America. Many pictures by Velasquez may still be resting unrecognized in South America, according to an art critic. The rough people, says he, who furnished the silver ingots, would yearn for presentments of the old country life and so early essays at its portrayal by Velasquez may still be slumbering in remote haciendas under the shadow of the Andes.

A Permanent Job. It is the inevitable that we are all struggling against—Life.

The Weight of the World and its civilization rests on the strong shoulders of the three great beer brewing nations. Herein is overwhelming evidence that the continual use of rich barley brews like develops muscle, might and mind. Dr. Chas. S. Grady, Grantwood, N. J., says: "I believe the moderate use of good malt beer, the product of barley vegetable or cereal ingredient, is beneficial to adult persons and is certainly a food."

The popularity of "Peerless" is due to its commanding superiority. It has a splendid fragrance and most delightful flavor, because it is brewed—and has been brewed for half a century—by the celebrated Gund Natural Process—a peculiar process that retains in a most wonderful degree the aroma and strength of the grain and the hop.

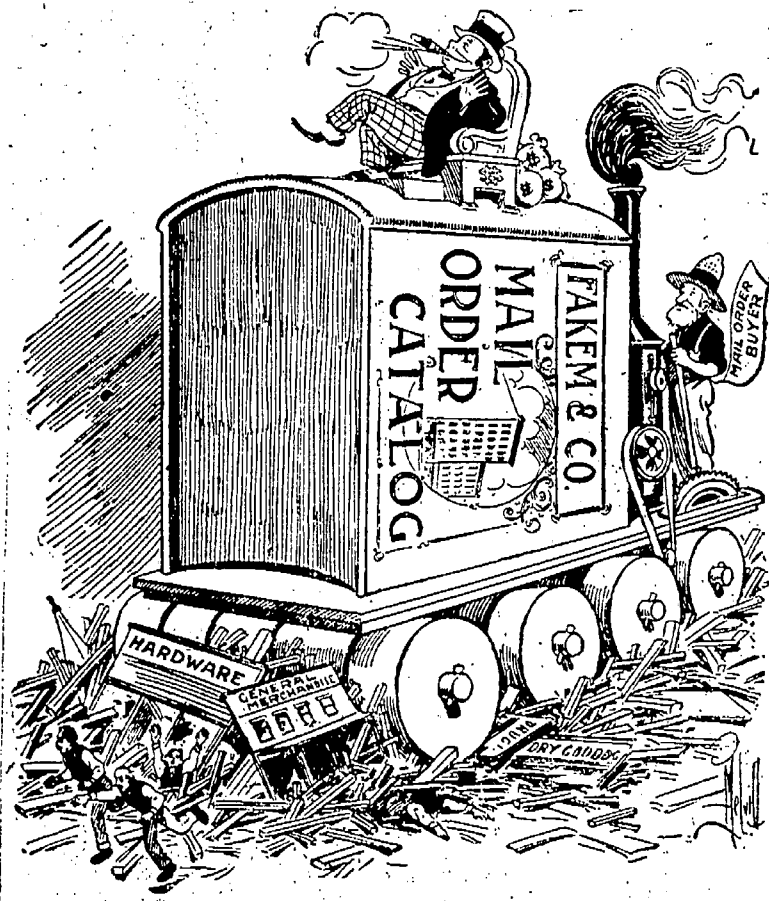

Won gold medal at St. Louis, 1904—and diploma at Paris, 1900. Contains but 3 1/2% of alcohol—enough to promote digestion. Is a fine family beer. Try a case delivered at your home. Telephone, write or call for a trial order.

Peerless is sold at all restaurants, buffets, cafes, hotels and places of public resort.

Ask and it is handed to you.

The mail-order juggernaut is crushing the lives out of hundreds and thousands of local merchants, and hundreds of towns and villages as well. When you send a dollar to the mail-order house you are but operating the lever that keeps this death-dealing machine on the move.

any, cheaper than your local merchant can. First-quality, standard merchandise is manufactured on a very narrow margin of profit, but the mail order house can win and pay big dividends on enormous capital if they can sell to the people an inferior quality and short weight quantity of merchandise at the prices they ask. Your local merchant could do the same thing, but you would not buy the same goods of your local merchant that you buy of the mail order house at an equal price.

Here is an item clipped from the Parma, Mich., News which shows the nefarious system of the mail order concerns, and how they victimize their patrons:

"A farmer purchased two sacks of binding twine of a large Chicago catalogue house, and upon its arrival this morning a ball was unrolled and measured with a ball of Plymouth twine sold by local dealers, when it was found that the Chicago article was just 206 feet short of that sold at home. There being ten balls in a sack, it will be seen that the farmer lost 6,120 feet, or over a mile of twine on two sacks by not buying at home. Then, too, the mail order house product was of an inferior quality, being full of knots, and one farmer standing near during the measuring process remarked that it would never work on a binder. Now we wish to ask you, does it pay to trade at home? If there is anyone who is skeptical of this story, just call and we will show you."—Parma, Mich., News.

Bankrupt stock, merchandise that reliable jobbers would not handle because of its poor quality, the refuse of the factories made over into cheap merchandise. These are the things the patrons of the mail order houses are buying. Here is an extract from an article that appeared in the Sioux Falls, S. D. Leader:

"The mail order house selling vehicles by the catalogue route, is more than a pirate, it is a turkey-buzzard. It takes the freaks and failures that have died for want of real merit, and tries to stifle legitimate business by selling the embalmed remains at a reduced price."

The whole nefarious mail order system, in so far as it relates to vehicles delay is that they do not carry the goods in stock, and must purchase them after your order is received. In Chicago, for example, no mail order house will sell to any person living within the city limits, and the reason for this is that these concerns purchase a large amount of the merchandise they are selling from the retail stores of the city, the proprietors of which refuse to sell them the goods except upon the condition that they are not to sell to the people of the city.

Here is the wail of a mail-order victim taken from the columns of the Crookston, Minn., Journal, which explains this point:

"Sir: I want to register my kick right here on catalogue houses and their misleading methods. I am frank to acknowledge that I have been duped to perfection. The only difference between me and the other victims being that I am a little deeper in and that I am willing to acknowledge the error."

"To begin with, last fall I with her who is now my wife, decided to purchase some stuff to furnish our new home. Accordingly we ordered all our furnishings of a catalogue house two weeks prior to our marriage, which we thought would be plenty of time to get the goods around. But by the infernal planets let me tell you right here that all the correspondence diplomacy, appealing and pleading has succeeded in landing only a kitchen table and later a mirror from Pittsburgh."

"Our honeymoon has been a very dramatic experience; cooking on an old gas plate, eating on a dry goods box, sleeping on the floor and borrowing a few necessary utensils of friends and neighbors. No more catalogue goods for us. We hope to get enough more goods by April 1 to celebrate all fool's day in a fitting manner."

"A VICTIM."

Mr. Consumer, it is to your advantage in many ways to buy honest goods at honest prices of your honest local merchant. See what you are buying. Get what you are paying for. Keep the money of the community in which you live at home, and build up your town instead of tearing it down for the benefit of the mail order houses of the big cities.

"THOU SHALT NOTS" FOR ADVERTISERS

The Motto Inscribed Within Goethe's Ring Was This One: "WITHOUT HASTE, BUT WITHOUT REST;" And This Should Be The Creed Of Store-Advertisers In Planning Every Campaign of Newspaper Publicity.

THOU SHALT NOT run after the "graven images" of Publicity—the "schemes and money-wasting methods of the inexperienced FOR NEWSPAPER PUBLICITY which is the TRUE publicity, COSTS MONEY—and should absorb ALL of your appropriations in order to have the fullest force and effectiveness.

THOU SHALT NOT make a PLANLESS CAMPAIGN OF NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING—for a store which is advertised "now and then" might just as well only be open for business "now and then." Your PLAN should look to making your store BUSY ON WHAT ARE NOW ITS "QUIETEST" DAYS—and that means that you must advertise on such days WITH MORE ENTHUSIASM and IMPRESSIVENESS THAN ON OTHER DAYS.

THOU SHALT NOT advertise for the purpose of "helping the paper along" any more than you shall buy goods in order to "help the wholesaler along."

THOU SHALT NOT advertise stingily; for the average person steers clear of stinginess in advertising as naturally as he would steer clear of people noted for table-stinginess or dress-stinginess.

THOU SHALT NOT "steal" either the ideas or the methods of another advertiser—no more than you would steal his hat or his horse.

THOU SHALT NOT bear double-meaning witness for your goods—candor and frankness are the basic elements of good advertising.

THOU SHALT NOT covet thy competitor's trade, nor his prosperity, nor his advertising ideas, nor anything that is thy competitor's; but thou shalt secure for thyself even better things of like kind.
